PITCHÉR HOSP SOLD. BOUGHT BY CINCINNATI. President Henry Berry of the Los Angeles club announced list night that he had sold Pitcher Frans Hosp to the Cincinnati National League team, but be will not report for duty until next spring.

Negotiations for the purchase of Hosp have been carried on for several weeks. Griffith wanted him for immediate delivery, but Berry wired an answer yesterday that Hosp would not be sold at any price under such conditions. Finally a message was received last night which stated that Berry's terms were accepted, the pitcher to be delivered next spring. The price agreed upon was not made public.

news of his sale to a big league team will not surprise any of the observing fans. He lives at Oceanside, down San Diego way, where he is interested in the nursery business. Two years ago the nursery business. Two years ago the Los Angeles team went to San Diego to play an exhibition game and Hosp pitched for the San Diego nine. He lost by a score of 1 to 0, but his showing was so good that Manager Berry signed him for the Los Angeles team. He made an indifferent showing in 1907, but last year was about as good as any heaver in the league, finishing fifth, with twenty victories and fifteen defeats.

Unlike many pitchers, Hosp is just as good an infelder as he is a pitcher, and has played in many games as shortstop and second baseman, and is a good pinch hitter. With Hogp sold to Cincinnati, Beall to the Chicago white Sox, and Koesther to the Cleveland team, the local aggregation will lose three valuable men.

M'CREDIE REMEMBERS. PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After having denied yesterday that he had disposed of Ote Johnson to New York, Walter McCredle today announced that such a deal had been made, after all. a deal had been made, after all.

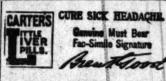

McCredie's explanation of his denial yesterday is that he had completely forgotten a verbal agreement which he had made with Frank Farrell, the New York magnate, in California last apring. Today McCredie says he received a letter from Farrell asking for Johnson under the terms of their agreement. The Portland manager will get $2000 cash, he says, besides the refusal of three players in exchange for Johnson.

McCredie reiterated today his intention to dispose of no players except on the basis of trade for other players, with cash as a secondary considera-

McCredie Getting Rich.

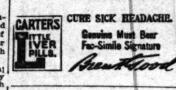

PORTLAND, Aug. 6.— [Exclusive Dispatch.] Edward J. Kinsella, star pitcher of the Portland team in the Northwest Leage, has been sold for next season's delivery to the St. Louis Americans. The consideration, according to Manager Walter McCredie, is $2000 cash and the refusal of two players for next season. The deal is making good, according to McCredie, but the Portland team will get the players at the opening of the season irrespective of Kinsella's outcome.

PRELATE AGAINST EDUCATOR'S "NEW RELIGION."

Church is Undying, Says the Cath-olic Prelate, in Reply to Harvard's ex-President—Declares no Other Structure Can Ever Supplant or Overshadow Catholicism.

TRENTON, July 23.—Bishop James
A. McFaul, head of the Roman Catholic diocese of Trenton, who recently created a sensation by his statements relative to moral depravity among students in American colleges, today answered Dr. Charles W. Ellot, predicent-emeritus of Harvard College, who predicted, in an address before the Harvard Summer School of Theology, the advent of a new religion—sreligion without supernatural element and based on the laws of nature and on the love of God and man.

The bishop, affirming his belief that the Catholic church is the only true church, points out that Dr. Ellot is a Unitarian, and "therefore denies the trinity and the divinity of Christ. Consequently he is not a Christian."

"It appears that Dr. Ellot," says the hishop, "has now assumed the role of prophet. I am sorry for this, because I have always esteemed him and have observed that modern prophets are not very successful in their prognostications.

"It would be ludicrous were it not pitiable to hear a man of Dr. Ellot's reputed learning and character outlining the 'church of the future."

"A celebrated English essayist has this to say regarding the Church of Rome, "We often hear i' said that the world is constantly becoming more and more enlightened, and that this enlightening must be favorable to Protestantism. We wish,' said he, 'that we could think so. But we see great reasons to doubt whether this be a well-founded expectation. During these 250 years, Protestantism has made no conquest worth speaking of. Mischief II Is Disqualified for Fouling.

Capt. Folsom Protests Similar Charge.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Lipton cup in the yacht races was won by the Trilby, a San Diego boat, owned by Dr. Gahan. The Trilby started over the course at 1:00:21, and finished at 3:31:20. The Columbine and the Wasp were the only South Coast yachts to finish, but on account of the handicap the race went to the Trilby.

Skipper Folsom of the Mischief II will probably file a protest, as his boat was ruled out of the race by the judges on a charge of foulling the Gretchen.

The judges were J. G. Bourns and Commodore Bradley of the San Diego Yacht Club.

At 1 o'clock the starting gun boomed forth, and all yachts made a dash for the line. All eyes were on Trilby and (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

St. Michel, where the sands are are treacherous as in any part of France. Having put on an old suit of clothes, he went out to a dangerous spot and duly began to sink. At a convenient distance photographers, on his instructions, put up a cinematograph camera and began taking pictures of him as he was slowly sucked under. Meanwhile he tried to look and act as horror-stricken as possible.

The thing was thus being beautifully carried out when it suddenly occurred to all concerned that the whole performance was getting perilously near to reality. The sculptor, sucked down almost to his waist, stopped acting in a hurry, and the pictures taken of him show that his fright was no longer a preterice. At the same moment the photographers ceased to photograph because they found that they and their camera were sinking rapidly in the quicksands. Help came just in time and all were dragged out safe and sound.

The northern aggregation left San Francisco last night and is expected to arrive here this morning.

The match promises to be the best exhibition of the Canadian game that has been played in the south. The first match ever played here was held only a few weeks ago and the Los Angeles and Shamrock teams have met several times during the last two months. German Methodists Call a New Minister.

Rev. Dr. J. W. Campbell, who was a favorite and successful pastor of the First Methodist Church of this city from 1891 to 1895, arrived here yesterday and will occupy that pulpit during the month of August, while Dr. Locke is on his vacation.

Dr. Campbell recalled, as he sat in the Fremont yesterday, how he was received by the pioneer Methodists of eighteen years ago.

"The parsonage was a long one-story building." he sald, "and stood on Broadway between Third and Fourth streets, about where the Laughlin building now is. Twelve or fifteen members of the church met us at Burbank, showed us to the parsonage, where dinner was ready, and sat us down to the table. Mute About Plans, But Investigation Expected.

Pacific Coast druggists who have been ignoring the provisions of the State and Federal pure-food and drugs laws are in danger. WAITING FOR TAYLOR.

None of the professors would discuss this phase of their trip last night. Prof. Remsen, when questioned, hinted that the plans of the commission are already formulated, and that a surprise was in store for the convention when the government's ideas are made public.

Prof. Chittenden declined to talk for publication, saying he was sorry, but that he deemed it best to say nothing until after the arrival of Dr. Taylor enabled the commission to get together and elaborate its programme for the immediate future.

"What is whiskey," the question that has bethered both President Tat and former President Rooseveit, was put to Prof. Remsen last night, but he readed weariness as an excuse to avoid answering. The question is est-whiskey in the meaning of the Federal law.

Another question that the commission will probably tackle, is the acatement or complete removal of the tax on alcohol used in the arts and trades. This is one which has caused considerable discussion in the ranks of the practical chemists, who face enalty grave problems in this connection.

Prof. Remsen was asked last night for an expression of opinion on the movement among the dragists of the country to secure uniform laws, but said that such matters were completely outside of his jurisdiction.

The professor's analysis is merciless and leaves nothing for them to rest upon. The initiative, referendum and recall he refers to by name briefly, but they are so plainly included in his arraignment of fads and of the so-called "pure democracy" that no one can mistake the fact. Prof. Ford says in no one can mistake the lact. Froi. For says in substance:

The direct primary will not take power away from the politicians and give it to the people, although it may take advantage and opportunity from one set of politicians and confer them on another set. [Hear, hear!] "Politics has been, is and always will be carried on by politicians, just as art is carried on by artists, engineering by engineers, business by business men. . . It (the direct primary) is the most noxious of the reforms by which spoilsmen are generated, for it parallels the long series of regular elections with a corresponding series of elections in every regular party organization. The more elections there are, the larger becomes the class of professional politicians to be supported by the community." These objections certainly apply to the initiative, referendum and recall.

Business will now go on, with definite prospects before those who conduct it as to what they may do with fair hope of success. They will need to hesitate no longer in doubt as to what competition from abroad they will be obliged to meet.

But before dismissing the matter from our minds there is one thing California ought to do. Our Senators and Representatives in Congress conducted themselves with admirable discretion, most of them, and as a result we Californians have about all the advantages to be had from tariff protection we could reasonably ask. While nearly all did their duty with considerable zeal and wisdom, it is to the diplomatic methods and indefatigable efforts of Senator Frank P. Flint that we owe the results in duty with considerable zeal and wisdom, it is to the diplomatic methods and indefatigable efforts of Senator Frank P. Flint that we owe the results in which we all so much rejoice. Early and late Senator Flint was in the thick of the fight. He let no opportunity slip to gain a point for California, nor did he make the slightest mistake in handling the intricate subject and delicate business of getting all our interests so well protected in the new tariff act. No California product of importance goes on the free list, much as they were assailed by freetrade Democrats, aided by insurgent Republicans. Not one is materially reduced in the schedule. On the other hand, we have got material advances in some duties affecting us in the most important degree. It is not necessary to go over this ground in detail. We have done that as the changes came up while the bill was in process of formation.

The thought in mind at this time is to ask whether some public recognition of Senator Flint's services is not in order. This is not a party affair. The work of the Senator is of as much benefit to one producer as another, no matter what party he belongs to. It seems to us that the leading organizations of Los Angeles business men might well take this matter in hand and arrange a public reception for Senator Flint on his arrival home, and pay a fitting tribute to him for what he has done so wisely and well.

The matter is now before the house and we shall await the action of the various hodies whose mem-

The matter is now before the house and we shall await the action of the various bodies whose members will all gain much from the new tariff bill in the form it has passed Congress and been signed by President Taft. If a public official makes a grave blunder we are all ready to "knock" to our utmost ability. Where merit is conspicuous we should not stint our palms.

MERCILESS ANALYSIS OF A NOX-

The North American Review's leading article for July, "The Direct Primary," by Prof. Henry Jones Ford, professor of politics in Princeton University, should be read by every American, especially the followers of the so-called reformers who consider this innovation, together with the initiative, referendum and recall, genuine political pana-

In New York City the people elect the following In New York City the people elect the following officers: State — Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary of State, Controller, Treasurer, Attorney-General, Engineer and various judicial officers; county—Clerk, Sheriff, Register, District Attorney, Surrogate, justices; city—Mayor, Controller, President of the Board of Aldermen. The city's 1909 budget allows $1,035,130 for the mere annual expense of holding elections, to say nothing of the millions spent by candidates and parties, or of the support of the thousands of politicians bred by the conditions which "afford vast employment for engineers and stokers in running political machines, the most monstrous and complicated that the world has ever seen." Every dollar of this comes, in one way or another, from the people.

Success in purely democratic government abroad, of which we hear much in some popular magazines, the writer says, is due chiefly to the fact that in these so-called democracies not one of these offices is filled by popular election. This is true of Switzerland, England, Canada, New Zealand and of every civilized nation in the world.

Under direct primaries a candidate's expenses are appalling. In Oklahoma one gubernatorial candidate spent $75,000 and another $50,000, and Senatorial aspirants from $30,000 to $100,000, just Senatorial aspirants from $30,000 to $100,000, just to get the nomination. Men of moderate means dropped out. Under such conditions candidates must be selected not for ability, but for cash. Imagine, if you can, Abraham Lincoln's rise under such conditions. And moreover, as the learned writer points out, where will you find more temptation to graft than under these circumstances? Indeed, how else will a successful candidate keep out of the poorhouse unless he be a millionaire?

Our present system of choosing State of the poorhouse unless he be a millionaire?

poorhouse unless he be a millionaire?
Our present system of choosing State officers Prof. Ford likens to a bank where the stockholders should choose not only the directors, but every officer from cashier to janitor, and the shareholders in each district of its business field in turn choose agents for that district; and he asks what results might be thus expected and what sort of cooperation would we have for conducting the business?
Party enveryment, which the professor speaks of Party government, which the professor speaks of as "a poor substitute for representative government," was evolved by "a prodigy of political talent" to provide some form of responsibility, some center upon which public opinion may act. While condemning this "party government" as the cause of much of the corruption that stands out so boldly in our political life, the writer considers it an unavoidable evil as long as the present system continues, and that to abolish this "party government or responsibility," as proposed by faddists, would be the greatest calamity.

Under the direct-primary laws of Colorado, ac-be the greatest calamity.

Under the direct-primary laws of Colorade, according to Judge B. R. Lindsay, a Denver jurist of wide note, outrages against public rights, plundering of cities and election frauds have been carried out that could never have been shouldered by any party that would live, and that no set of politicians would have dared to take responsibility for under the old conditions. Corporations spent money like water for their ends, employing advocates before the people, and otherwise, and, for the mospart, it was legal, as the people nominally had the Constant elections and diffusion of power are a return to ancient exploded theories and to conditions of early civilization. These things were tried in ancient Greece and Rome and in medieval Italy and failed, after endless civil wars. The only modern country besides the United States that has tried this system was revolutionary France.

"The scheme of local government devised by the Constituent Assembly and promulgated by the decree of December 14, 1789," says Prof. Ford, "was based upon the principles of the direct primary and the recall asserted with logical completeness.
All administrative officials were chosen by the citizons meeting in primary assemblies, and these might reassemble to recall and replace obnoxious officials. . . The faction fighting that ensued soon brought about the state of things known in history as the Terror. In the present French republic elections are absolutely confined to the choice of representatives."

Good reading for dotty reformers, both national and local; and commended to the study of certain deluded persons in Los Angeles and elsewhere.

THE EXHAUSTION OF OIL.

THE EXHAUSTION OF OIL. THE EXHAUSTION OF OIL.

Dr. David T. Day of the United States Geological Survey has issued a bulletin which is a wild and alarming thing, indeed. The doctor is quoted as saying that the world's supply of oil is to be exhausted in twenty-seven years, and appeals to the people to lessen their consumption and prepare for the proverbial "rainy day."

Perhaps the twenty-seven years is a misacian.

the proverbial "rainy day."

Perhaps the twenty-seven years is a misprint, a case of missing a cipher, and maybe the doctor meant 270 years. If so, we need not worry. If the prediction is twenty-seven years and applies to eastern fields, it may be taken as perhaps accurate, as they are steadily declining while consumption is growing. On the other hand, California's production is growing and the idea of its exhaustion in twenty-seven years is calculated to make us smile; though we know, of course, that the fields are not inexhaustible. nexhaustible.

As to the idea of saving oil for other needs than fuel, it will receive scant consideration in Califor-nia, although there is some feeling against trying to push the market too hard and selling at low holding for the home market. This may be a mat-ter, however, beyond the control of any individual or combination.

There was once a miser who had thousands of dollars put away and refused to part with any of it for food and clothes. Asked why he did this, he replied: "If I spend this now I won't have any for a rainy day." Before the rainy day came he died, after missing all the comforts and good things of life. Some of the scientists seem to entertain some what similar ideas as to our national resources.

THE WICKED AMERICANS.

THE WICKED AMERICANS.

I Many good citizens who were born under other flags than Old Glory and are, by the abundant grace of the American people, permitted to take part in our political affairs, sometimes render themselves tiresomely offensive by their open declarations that we are politically corrupt as a people, morally low as individuals, as well as more or less crude in intelligence and coarse in manners. We Americans are a large-minded people, rerhaps too well satisfied with ourselves, and do not pay much attention to these strictures on the part of those who might be called guests of the nation. We need a little self-conceit, or these criticisms might often lead to angry altercation. Indeed, it is seldom that an American of any standing thinks it worth while to receive these free admonitions to reform with more than a smile of good-natured condolence for the man who utters them. We seldom remind the man from over the seas that he is somewhat lacking in politieness himself to be so outspoken in his condemnation of us.

We had occasion the other day to point out the boldhess of an assumption on the part of a writer in the Outlook, who we can hardly think is an American. He cried aloud and spared not that all the core; that the full with us from washington to Garvanza, so to speak, is corruption in all our political affairs.

In The Times of Friday morning we printed a letter from London which it would be well for the editor of the Outlook to read carefully, and which editor of the Outlook to refute or the writer we have referred to ought to refute, or retract what he has said in the way of comparison with "other democracies." of this country with "other democracies."

reform party, and one of the leaders, in fact the real leader, of the same, Lloyd-George, is an aggressive though not a noisy reformer. According to the letter written by a Londoner on the spot and well versed in affairs, the reform party now ruling Great Britain constantly spends huge sums of money for political purposes, for party propagands. This expenditure is not confined to general election times, but goes on when the political army is on a purely peace footing. And, horror of horrors, the money is mostly raised by "squeezing suckers" intent on gaining peerages, for which all there is to do is draw a check for so many thousand pounds, the figures being gauged by the size of the "honor." Worse and worse, the King is the fountain-head of these "honors" and protests against the humiliation to which he is subjected in having to sign letters patent to confer titles on the veriest noodles without education, manners or merit. A thousand cares oppress the mind in life's long summer day; we weary of the galling grind, and endless seems the way. The journey's really not so long; we have not far to roam, and soon we'll hear the evensong, and then we'll toddle home. Our burdens seem an awful pile, and yet they're not so great. If we would pack them with a smile, we would not feel the weight. We murmur as we hold the plow and guide it through the loam; but dusk is coming, even now, and soon we'll toddle home. We see a cloud of sullen gray, and straightway we repine; "the storm is rising fast," we say, "the sun no more will shine." But in a space his golden beams will light the azure dome, until shall come the time for dreams, and then we'll toddle home. No trouble lasts if we are brave and take a manly stand; and Fear becomes a cringing slave if we but raise a hand; the evil that disturbs our rest is but a shadow gnome; the sun is sinking in the west, and soon we'll toddle home. Then let us toddle home as gay as birds that never weep; as glad as children, tired of play, who only wish to sleep; and while recording angels write our names in heaven's tome we'll seek our couch and say good night, when we have toddled home.

Washington Magletrate Tells Boys Its Gambling and He Will Not Allow It.

IASSOCIATED PRESS DAT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—"Boys who play marbles for keeps" are gamblers and liable to punishment for violation of the law, according to the dictum handed down by Justice Kimball in one of the most unusual cases ever brought before the Police Court in Washington. Three small boys were brought before the magistrate yesterday, charged with participation in a same of chance. The charge was sustained by the magistrate, who delivered, in forceful fashion, a few ideas on what constitutes gambling.

The playing of marbles for keeps is a violation of the law," he said, fravely, "and as long as I am on the bench I purpose to break it up."

The magistrate held that no matter what the game may be, the element of chance constitutes gambling. The youngsters were read a severe lecture and sentence suspended during good chavior.

HALL SECURES STANDING.

Sherman Hall, one of the eleventhhour candidates for a scholarship, has secured standing in the score list by increasing his number of points from 770 to $397, which makes him No. 42 in the list. Although he has been in the contest but a week he has already overtaken Mearl Kniesel, who has never been able to reach the 2000
mark, Ray Wilcox and Harry Spooner.
Sherman is the only one competing with Miss Marion Henderson of San Pedro for the spectal prize of $25 to be awarded to the contestant starting after July 20, and naking the highest accree in excess of 15,000 before August 15. Miss Henderson has 7715 to her credit and both will have to hustle if either of them is to win the prize. They have one week more after today to make the 15,000 of cover, and some as yet unheard of contestants may start in yet and beat them to it.
Five new subscriptions for one year each will give a credit of $5,000 points, and more than one contestant has securred more than twice 25,000 points in

The call for all out-standing coupons to be turned in before Saturday night has resulted in a perfect deluge of coupon votes during the lact few days. credited in due time to the respective contestants in whose favor they were voted.

During the last few days many of the contestants have been so busy collecting the coupons saved up for them, that they have had little time to do anything else, hence they have not gained much in subscription votes, which, after all, are the important thing. After the 'pesky' little coupons (for that is what the best contestants call them) are out of the way, all can settle down to soliciting subscriptions again. Most of the contestants have expressed their satisfaction with the abolishment of the coupons. A few contestants, however, and many subscribers lament the fact that they have been discontinued. Many subscribers take pleasure in clipping and saving them for contestants to take enough interest to come after them. This often puts the contestants to great inconvenience, as many have long distances to travel, some on foot and some on wheels, a wearisome task at the best. If the subscribers take the trouble to send the coupons to the contestants, or direct to The Times office, the coupons are not a hindrance but a help, as the contestants the have more time to devote to soliciting subscriptions, which count for the most points. vote to soliciting subscript unt for the most points,

EDUCATIONAL SHEET

The Times will issue on August 15 a special illustrated sheet, descriptive of private and public schools and other educational institutions of Southern California.

The text will be absolutely authentic, of wide scope and embrace the unexcelled advantages offered for educating the youth of this section. There are as fine schools and colleges, public, private and business, located in and adjacent to Los Angeles, as can be found anywhere in the United States. The issuance of this publication is primarily for the exploitation of these high-class institutions of learning which afford scholars as great opportunities for enlightenment as universities abroad.

In this special issue the advantages of the institutions represented in The Times' scholarship contest will be duly set forth for the guidance of the contestants in choosing their prizes, as well as for the enlightenment of other students who have not yet decided what schools to attend the coming year. *******************

CLOSING UP AFFAIRS OF CITY OF WILMINGTON.

WILMINGTON, Aug. 6.—To take preliminary steps toward closing up the affairs of the old town, the town was incorporated, beginning the Trustees met last night. Adjournment was taken until Monday next at 10 a.m., when the Trustees wilf meet at 10 a.m., when the Trustees wilf meet at the City Hall. Los Angeles, in joint session with the Council of the Angel. Next week will see its end as an independent, and it will then be formally handed over to the larger city, with all the rights the Wilmington people have struggled to maintain.

Wilmington has had a long and checkered career. Forty years ago it was a flourishing seaport. Vessels loaded with goods tied up at the wharves and big freighters received the consignments and hauled them to interest related.

A wide range of characters was shown and it was a source of much wonder that such a variety of costuming could be procured from the light equipment of a summer camp.

Miss Norma Gould received firsprise for the representation of a character and Mrs. Chase took the troph for the enost ridiculous garb.

Between Sixth and Seventh streets a large red seven-passenger automobile. tween Sixth and Seventh streets a large red seven-passenger automobile, coming at a rapid speed and without head lights dashed into their rig. Brown and his companion were thrown out, and the demolished buggy pitched to the parkway in the center of Euclid avenue, thirty feet from the center of the road. The pair came to Ontario and procured another rig to get home in. The automobilists did not even slacken speed when they saw what had happened.

New Companies.

The Wanapah Mining Company, backed by San Francisco capital, has been formed to operate a group of claims on the west slope of Newberry Mountain, a mile south of the Old Roman camp, near Searchlight, Nev. Another company in which Los Angeles and San Francisco people are interested is the White Rock Mining Company, just formed to operate in the same district as the Wanapah. This has taken a bond and lease for a year on a group owned by J. J. McDonald and Mrs. Rose O'Conner.

Ten men will be employed, a wagon road built and a gasoline hoist, compressor and power drills installed, to be in place within the next sixty days. Plans are under consideration to erect a thirty-ton mill. The group has been developed with 500 feet of shafts and tunnels.
